
From ob on 02/17/2024: "From woody ridge, we observed a large avalanche across the republic creek drainage (not sure what the peak is called but see the coordinates). I heard it first since it sounded like thunder or a plane, and then saw a huge cloud of snow moving down the mountain across the drainage. We do not know if it was natural or triggered by someone." Photo: B. Huyard

Advisory Region
Cooke City
Longitude
-109.97W
Latitude
44.97N
Avalanche Details: Large Natural Avalanche near Republic Creek
Cooke City, 2024-02-18