

Strong winds up Little Bear

Date

Thu, 11/21/2024 - 11:20

Activity

Snowmobiling

Dave and I rode up Little Bear canyon to the cabin today . Strong SW winds had scoured most exposed areas near the cabin at 7500'. We also noticed clear wind drifting along the road. Off trail, the snowpack was supportable underfoot and we were not punching through to the ground. Temps were balmy at the truck, 45° when we left around 11am.

Region

Northern Gallatin

Location (from list)

NORTHERN GALLATIN RANGE

Observer Name

H. Darby