

Collapsing and shooting cracks at 9,600' in the Absaroks are indicative of the instability throughout southwest Montana. This is bulls eye information that the snowpack is unstable and would likely avalanche on anything steeper than 30 degrees. Photo: Q. Gidley

Forecast link: GNFAC Avalanche Forecast for Sat Nov 19, 2011

No Region, 2011-11-19